3. Mandeville's Bakery

4. Fortune City Chinese Restaurant

Safe walking route to Twemlow Viaduct and other Harry Styles local landmarks.

- 1 We suggest getting to Holmes Chapel by train and starting your route at the station. Turn right onto Station Road then take the first right turn into Sandiford Road. At the end of this road, cross Macclesfield Road at the pedestrian crossing and continue straight on through Picton Square. Turn right into Rees Crescent then left onto Hermitage Lane.
- 2 Follow Hermitage Lane through the gate onto the country lane then turn right after crossing the Hermitage Bridge into the field. This path can be muddy. Follow the public footpath alongside the River Dane towards the viaduct. Cross the stream via the footbridge and continue to the viaduct.
- 3 After visiting Harry's Wall, retrace your route until you get to Macclesfield Road. Turn right after using the pedestrian crossing at the end of Picton Square. Mandeville's Bakery is on this road on your left.

Use the footpath at the right of Mandeville's to turn left into The Square and walk round the back of St. Lukes Church. Cross at the pedestrian crossing if you would like to visit the many options for shopping and refreshments in the village.
- 4 Continue south on A50 past the precinct and library on your left towards the traffic lights. Cross carefully at the crossroads junction where the A50 and A54 meet. Fortune City Chinese restaurant is on your right.

Take the footpath opposite the restaurant and to the right of the car garage into Bromley Drive. At the end of this road, cross over Station Road and head right towards the train station which will be on your left.
